Remember the below format for your bibliography:

Author	Title	Year of publication	Publisher	Place of Publication

Electronic sources:

Writer of article	Title of article	Year of publication	Website address	Date when website was visited

SECTION A: POETRY – COMPULSORY

ESSAY QUESTION

- Answer ONE question in this section.
- Your response should take the form of a well-constructed essay of 200-250 words (about ONE page).

QUESTION 1

Hypotheses

Even though many poems can share similarities in the style and theme that they are written, they can also differ significantly in ways such as approach or perspective, reflecting the distinct historical, cultural, or literary contexts of their creation. A closer examination of these differences or similarities reveals new insight and deeper understanding into the theme or issue explored in these poems.

Research question

Choose any TWO of the prescribed poems that you have studied so far this year.
Discuss any 3 of the following poetic devices as applicable to the poems you have chosen. You will do a comparative analysis to see how similar or different the three aspects of the poems that you have chosen are. You may use any of the below as a guide for any of the three options you choose to analyse.

Structural Analysis

- Number of stanzas
- Number of lines per stanza
- Rhyme scheme (if applicable)
- Meter (if applicable)

Language and Imagery

- Imagery (sensory details)
- Metaphors
- Similes
- Personification
- Alliteration
- Assonance
- Onomatopoeia

Themes and Motifs

- Identify the central theme(s)
- Identify recurring motifs (repeated ideas or symbols)

Poetic devices

- Symbolism
- Irony
- Enjambment
- Onomatopoeia
- Hyperbole
- Other literary devices used

Remember to follow the writing process steps below:

Planning (completing mind map)
Drafting (writing rough draft)

Revising (checking rough draft for errors)
Editing (correcting errors in rough draft)
Proofreading (checking the edited rough draft for errors)

[10 MARKS]

AND

Answer ONE question from EITHER SECTION B (Novel) OR SECTION C (Drama).

EITHER

SECTION B: NOVEL

TSOTSI* – Athol Fugard OR THINGS FALL APART – Chinua Achebe

QUESTION 3

Hypotheses

In Athol Fugard's novel Tsotsi, the protagonist's (Tsotsi's) journey from a violent and detached teenager to a compassionate and responsible young adult can be seen as a metaphor for identity and humanity in the face of urban poverty and violence.

Okonkwo's tragic downfall in the novel Things fall Apart by Chinua Achebe, is a result of his rigid adherence to traditional Igbo masculinity and his inability to adapt to the changing cultural landscape, leading to a crisis of identity.

Research question

Critically explore the concept of identity with regards to the portrayal of the main character in the novel you are studying i.e. either Tsotsi OR Things Fall Apart.

Your response should take the form of a well-constructed essay of 350-400 words (about TWO pages)

[25 MARKS]

OR

SECTION C: DRAMA

MACBETH* OR THE MERCHANT OF VENICE – William Shakespeare

QUESTION 4

Hypotheses

Self-interest and unchecked ambition, as portrayed in William Shakespeare's play Macbeth, can destroy even the strongest of relationships and lead to tragic consequences, whereas in Shakespeare's other play, The Merchant of Venice, true love and selflessness can triumph over mercenary motives and societal expectations, leading to personal growth and redemption.

Research question

Critically discuss the theme of love versus self-interest as portrayed by 1 or 2 main characters in the drama that you are studying i.e. either Macbeth OR The Merchant of Venice.

Your response should take the form of a well-constructed essay of 350-400 words (about TWO pages).
